- Introduction to Facebook or social bookmarking (on request)

Course type

The session will include a mixture of group discussion work and hands on experience of using the tools.

Feedback

"The range of different social media applications covered was great and went beyond just Facebook and Twitter. Was interesting to see how they could be utilized by different institutions."

"The training session was excellent. I not only enjoyed it but came out with more knowledge and ideas than I was probably expecting. By far one of the most useful training sessions I have had on social media and new technologies."
